How do Students Obtain the Designation Through Hartford School of Insurance?

Students who attend the Group Benefits Disability Specialist program where designation material was utilized are eligible for the GBDS designation. The designation is awarded to students who subsequently complete the program with a grade of 70% or better on each exam.

Too many Americans overlook the importance of protecting their most valuable asset – the ability to earn an income. As such, the role of insurance agents and advisors who focus on Disability benefits is vital to the financial security of their clients. To distinguish yourself in the Group Benefits Disability arena, consider the value of earning the GBDS Group Benefits Disability Specialist designation.

Hartford School of Insurance has worked to develop a curriculum that provides students with the opportunity to earn the esteemed GBDS designation upon successful completion of the Group Benefits Disability Specialist Program.
