

HIMCO Environmental Investment Policy Statement

Global and regional consequences of climate change can play a role in HIMCO's evaluation of the creditworthiness of specific issuers and industries. Climate change may have a direct impact on certain investments.

HIMCO believes that investing in companies and industries that effectively manage environmental risks and exhibit superior corporate governance can improve long-term investment performance.

HIMCO considers a number of factors in assessing and managing global environmental risks, such as regulatory regimes, changes in supply/demand dynamics and advances in technology.